(Prayer I gave at Road School banquet March 31, 1970)

O Merciful One, Lover of all Mankind, Greater of the World, Master of the Universe, Hearer of all our prayers and hopes who has created man with a burning desire to communicate with other men and with a driving curiosity to know and understand Thy universe Grant that all of us whose work it is to make it easier and better for man to communicate with his fellowmen and easier and better for him to explore Thy world Grant that we will always be dedicated to the task of not only ~~improving~~ improving the physical means of communications between men but also the mental, intellectual and spiritual means. Grant O Lord that we will always be mindful of the fact that without the willingness to listen with love and compassion physical means of communication alone can often lead to just crueler and swifter destruction rather than the hoped for greater and better understanding among men and the hoped for greater appreciation of Thy universe. Grant O Lord that all of us throughout the world will learn how to build more and more and better and better roads of understanding and compassion. And that by so doing we will not only be drawn closer to each other but also to Thee. Amen.
